ABSTRACT

FilmFree is a collaborative project among different organizations within the European union. The objectives of the FilmFree project are to make a number of technological advances that will take the digital industrial radiography sector into a new era to effectively replace film as the detecting media. The Project is co-ordinated and managed by TWI Ltd. and is partly funded by the EC under the IP SME programme ref: Number NMP2-CT-2005-515746. The role of the Hellenic Society of NDT (HSNT) is mainly to provide public dissemination of information relating to the Filmfree project. The project has been in effect since October 2005 and this presentation provides details concerning results and other information for the FilmFree project.
